Doing Hard Work On Island Bill.

(Special to The Advertiser.)

ASHINGTON, D. C., March 15-Carter is making a vigorous effort before the House Committee on the House Representative Knox, of and get the reports and approve, so that the will have in than any other companies have in than any or account of the great distance they are away from here. This bill simply examis this right to this ditch company consummation by which that party will gain a senator and, therefore, have ten members sure in that body, enough to make two-thirds and, therefore, to contact the reports and approve, so and get the reports and approve, so that they will have in reality no longer time to complete the work in than any or account of the great distance they are away from here. Knox unwittingly seemed about to sanction such a scheme, as he is anxious to avoid any quarrel on the floor of the House over the question. Mr. Carter pointed out that such a plan would prove very beautiful for the Home Rulers, as they have three Senators from the First district, two from the Second district, two from the Second district, two from the Fourth, or more than a majority of the names from every senatorial district except the third. The chances would be about two to one in favor of the Home Rulers gaining the extra Senator, and Mr. Carter declared that he did not intend to be taken in by such a scheme as that.

Mr. Carter does not take any stock in Mr. Caypless' efforts to convince the lines to the floor of the said he had specially had inserted himself, so that the price of water could be fixed by the courts, if the ewner of the ditch company and the owner of the dit

The bill was called up in the House by Representative Powers, of Maine, who drew the measure as reported from the committee. Mr. Lacey of Iowa was called to the chair as the bill was considered in the Committee of the Whole. Mr. Powers explained the interests of the Territory. Matthe purposes of the measure as follows:

There is organized, under the authority of the Legislature of Hawaii, a ditch company. That ditch company has leased and purchased certain water rights where the water is now falling a cane loader. into the sea. It desires to convey that water to other lands and to irrigate In order to do that they must cross certain land the title of which is in the United States. The Secretary of the Interior, after a careful examina-tion of the statutes, decided that he could not grant them authority or right to cross this land, and that they must get it from Congress.

The committee are very generally Francisco. of the opinion that he had that authority. I will say that the committee are unanimous in this report. Now, there is a general statute which is referred to here, and which I can read, which authorizes all ditch companies, where they desire to irrigate land, to cross Government lands in other Territories. We have given them the same right of crossing this land of the Government which every ditch company has in every other Territory In the United States, in the Territory of New Mexico and Arizona and Alaska. it having been decided that that general act does not apply to Hawaii. Mr. Carter does not take any stock in Mr. Caypless' efforts to convince the committee that the apportionment for the First and Second districts must stand and he has informed the committee on territories what Mr. Caypless has in mind by arging the validity of that apportionment—the retention of Senator Bill White and the ousting of Senator H. or two talks over the subject this week apparently without coming to any agreement. Finally, a few days ago Mr. Carter proposed to Mr. Caypless that they go before the committee and fight it out then and there. Mr. Carter proposed that they should tell the committee they could not agree. Each should state his own proposition, explain the situation from his own standpoint, and stand or fall by the result. Mr. Carter told Mr. Caypless that if the committee decided there must be a drawing from the hat for names, he would take his medicine like a man. Caypless must do the same. He wanted a fair and square fight and a settlement. Mr. Caypless decided that he didn't want to do that. He thought a little more delay might be better, and two talks over the subject this week was first called on but spoke only a object in view. However, if Congress thought something should be done. LIKE OTHER CASES.

At one time Whaley and Johnson stood a chance of being released from arrest on the grounds that the law under which they were arrested, was not retroactive Prautch, accused of fraud by his former partner, Affred Bereis, and arrested on complaint of the latter; but the Supreme Court definitely decided that arrest in his case was justifiable. This decision was a death-blow to Whaley's and Johnson's hopes for release and also to the case of Archibald Stewart and all others who had been arrested under the law. Judge Odlin is also of the opinion that the law authorizing arrest for fraudu-lently acquired debts is retroactive ex-cept where it conflicts with any vested property right under existing law.
